A group of 15 female students, likely members of a school festival committee, are posed for a group photo. They are arranged in two rows, with the front row standing and the back row slightly elevated. All students are wearing black uniforms with white collars and cuffs. They are holding white bowls, some of which have gold-colored patterns. The background shows a large, multi-story building with many lit windows, suggesting an evening or night setting. The ground they are standing on appears to be a paved plaza or courtyard.

A group of seven people, including four men and three women, standing in a row in a room with a large, abstract, circular artwork on the wall behind them. They are wearing various traditional Japanese clothing, including kimonos and haori.
